

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE B-6

WASHINGTON POST
31 July 1985

OBITUARIES

Ann Sviatek,

61, a retired administrative assistant at Agricultural Cooperative Development International, died July 28 at Georgetown University Hospital of complications following heart bypass surgery.

Miss Sviatek, a native of Manchester, N.H., had lived in Washington since 1952. She worked for the Central Intelligence Agency from 1955 to 1964, when she joined Agricultural Cooperative Development International. While with the CIA she was posted to Spain, Egypt and Japan.

She retired two years ago.

Miss Sviatek is survived by a sister, Jo-Ann Stillings of Barrington, R.I.